BY LLOYD BASKERVILLE — CARMEL HIGH SCHOOL

I've moved from the classroom into the pottery. My reasons are cogent, but their unfolding would require about two columns of the Outlook, and this spread is for the kids. Suffice it to say that in my own way I dig McLuhan.

I'm not attempting to train kids to be potters (I'm vehemently opposed to training people — animals, yes — people, no); rather, I want to help kids perceive what their hands can do ... find a measure of confidence within themselves so they can create and, hopefully, transfer this feeling, this complex of attitudes, into whatever it is they want to be as human beings.

UNDER THE OAKS & AMONG THE CACTI

By Mildred Hattan

659-2468

A HECTIC WEEK

The Crosby and The Weather ...two forceful factions finally climaxed a long standing feud with the latter flooding the former right off the front pages.

Many social traditions were broken with annual parties either cancelled or sadly restricted.

Frank and Carrie Papineau at the Adobe Oaks were left with six reservation cancellations, a leaky roof, a broken fence, and three downed trees. Marge and Lou Gardner had Crosby guests registered at the Blue Sky Lodge, but attention was centered on flooded plumbing at the Blue Sky apartments on Via Contenta.

Fans and players alike were so bundled against the elements that other than the bright yellow sweater, pants, and golf shoes worn by Texan Doug Sanders, few of the kicky-kooky garbs affected by both the gallery and players of other years could be seen. (Remember Jimmy De-maret made headlines in 1949 in his bright pink hat, and RED alligator shoes with red VELVET saddles!) Put THAT under an umbrella and it loses something!

The Quail Lodge at the Carmel Valley Golf and Country Club drew its share of celebrities.

A repeat guest was last year's grand marshal of the Salinas Como El Rodeo parade, Amanda Blake (Gunsmoke's Kitty) who was so impressed with the Valley that she returned with her husband, Frank Gildbert, for the Tournament.

Arnold Palmer and his wife, Winnie, were registered there also with Palmer getting in a few practice rounds on the Valley greens. As did "007" Sean Connery, Forty-Niner John Brodie, and others while Pebble Beach Courses were closed.

The Ralph Updikes at the Valley Lodge acquired guests in spite of the storm and sacrificed a number of Lodge trees to the high winds.

The Los Laureles Lodge had a number of cancellations and hosted guests from Ukiah and the Bay area, all of whom were dedicated fans and didn't miss a day of play.

The Whitcombs at the Canary Cottages also were forced to cope with reservations and cancellations.

The Carmel Valley Inn with genial hosts, Graeme and John Harrison, was a busy resort during the Crosby.

In addition to their regular guests, a contingent of 40 representatives from the Beacon Storage and Moving Lines were registered for a sales meeting. Many members of the Beacon party not only attended the Crosby Tournament but also played at the Carmel Valley Golf and Country Club.

Mr. and Mrs. George Fortune, part-time residents of La Rancheria were down from San Francisco for the tournament. Their guests who stayed at the nearby Inn were Mr. and Mrs. John Stephenson, Dr. and Mrs. Charles Noble and Mr. and Mrs. W.E. Eyres, all of San Francisco. The three couples were guests of the Fortunes at a dinner party at Lou's Casa Carmelo.

Still more Tournament enthusiasts staying at the Inn were Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Sir-man of Fresno. They were accompanied by their son, who holds the Fresno amateur championship title.

PIRATE PARTY

"Come as a pirate" read the invitations received by playmates who attended Zane De Amaral's party last Saturday in the home of his mother, Mrs. Frank DeAmaral Jr., on Ford Road.

Precious jewels spilling over the sides of a treasure chest were eyed with envy by the salty characters from the high seas while Zane opened his packages of booty. The favorite game of the afternoon was "pinning the dagger on the pirate!"

Enjoying birthday cake and hot dogs roasted in the fire place in the galley were Kathleen Brodrick, Billie Frisbie, Brett Stauffer, Mikey Jones, Conrad Casey, Stuart Wolf, Kerry Winslow, and Zane's sister and brothers, 'Liz, Frankie, and Gwyn Pat.

WOULDN'T YOU KNOW

A number of Valley-ites braved the storm on Wednesday, the 22nd, to drive into the movie at the Monterey Library. The scheduled film was..... "The Fish That Nearly Drowned!"

TERRIFIC PRIZES

The "Phantom Oak Moth" knows that Mrs. Leon Mink, carnival chairman for March 22nd Tularcitos Parents Club fund raiser, purchased two SENSATIONAL door prizes last week.

Cranberry colored bicycles (one for a boy and one for a girl) with polo seats, three speeds, and chrome fenders are awaiting the lucky new owners whose names will be drawn during the Spaghetti Dinner Hour.

LEAVE IT TO JOE

That Joe Ricupero is a man of many talents is an unquestionable fact, but did you know that he is planning to change his sign to read, "Guiseppe's Workbench and Operating Table"?

When Barbara and David Al-lard's small Katie inserted her finger instead of the glue brush into the well of the paste-pot last week, it appeared forever to be encased in metal. Frantic efforts of Barbara only seemed to make matters worse so she made a phone call to a doctor who referred her to Guiseppe, M.D. (metal dis-engager). Three intricately sawed notches later and Katie and lid were parted.

Hey kids, we hear that he gives his patients candy, too!

WHAT'S THAT AGAIN?

In the "So what else is new department".....

County road crews worked at full speed Tuesday and Wednesday to save the Valley road from washing out between Miramonte and Fiesta Roads.

A culvert under the road became clogged and the water backed up in the canyon and threatened to wash out the main road which is fill in that location. Pumps were used to get the backed up water from the canyon to the river. With the Laureles Grade closed for improvements, the Upper Valley would have been completely cut off from the Pen-

The preceding appeared in the January 6 issue of the Carmel Valley News published in 1956!

A LOVELY PARTY

Many lovely anthurium blossoms imparted a much needed feeling of the tropics into the crowd who braved the river-threatened roads to attend the St. Dunstan's Benefit Bridge and Canasta party Wednesday at the Flight Road home of Mrs. Philip Walker.

The waxen beauties were delivered personally from Hawaii by Jean and Rudi Mallek. Rudi, who recently completed a two year civilian assignment in Vietnam, flew to Australia where he was met by Jean. The former Valley-ites toured "the land down under," visited New Zealand, Fiji, and Hawaii on a leisurely two month holiday before they returned to the Peninsula and their home in New Monterey.

Hostesses at the Bridge were Mrs. Daniel Coleman, Col. (ret.) Kay Witter, and Mrs. Walker. Ten tables of bridge and three of canasta were decorated with arrangements of driftwood (gathered by Katherine on the Carmel Beach) miniature dried flowers, glass and shells which were presented as table prizes.

Winners were Mary Kunz, Muriel Dawson, Edna Smith, Toby Craven, Hazel Carp, Jenny Clark, Billie Mans, Johnny Christian, Jo Peterson, and Irene Carmichael, a house guest of Dorothy Gonzenbach.

The winner of the canasta award was Mike Cecka. The high in bridge was awarded to Esther Price. Second to Flo Holm.

The ladies have been invited to hold their February party at the Officers' Club at the Presidio by Mrs. Thomas Christian of Pebble Beach, who will have as her co-hostesses, Mrs. Dorothy Wageman and Mrs. Philip Walker.

Those planning to attend the February 26th dessert bridge are asked to make their reservations with Mrs. Walker (659-2280) by February 21.

VISIT DISNEYLAND

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Washington and children Elaine and Kevin of Ford Road, enjoyed a recent visit to Disneyland.

"America the Beautiful" and "It's a Small World" remain the Washington family favorites, however, they enjoyed an intriguing glimpse into the complicated mechanics of the "Submarine". The popular exhibit had been drained and it was possible to view all of the beauties of the deep from land.

While in the south, the Washington's visited Luther's mother, Mrs. Rosa Beth Washington of Pasadena.

NEW RESIDENT

A warm Valley welcome to Mrs. Elsie Siemens, a new resident who is making her temporary home with her daughter and family, Dr. and Mrs. Richard Sinclair and sons, who live on Brookdale Drive and Canada Way.

The former Oregonian, more recently of Mill Valley, met many of her new neighbors at the Community Chapel Bridge and Canasta party. Mrs. Siemens was the guest of Mrs. Vera Stokes.

LITTLE LEAGUE PLANS

Mr. and Mrs. George Palmer of Paso Hondo were in Watsonville on Wednesday to attend the District Administrative Little League meeting.

Discussion of the All Star Tournament which will follow the 1969 season and the possibilities of forming a Ladies' Auxiliary was conducted by Carl Sandman, district administrator.

Mr. Palmer is president of Carmel Valley Little League.

PANETTA APPOINTED

Longtime Valley residents, Mr. and Mrs. Carmelo Panetta and their many friends are delighted with the appointment of their son, Joseph, as assistant district attorney.

The new head of the Peninsula branch of the district attorney's office grew up in the home nestled in the orchards on Panetta Road. He attended local schools and graduated in 1958 from the law school of the University of Santa Clara. He succeeds Ralph M. Drummond, who recently was appointed a superior court judge.

BENEFIT CARD PARTY

Mrs. Roy Kaminske and Mrs. Larry Busick used "Happy New Year" for the theme of the Carmel Valley Community Chapel benefit bridge and canasta party which was co-hosted by them last week at the Fellowship Hall.

Gay yellow place mats were used on tables centered with bouquets of serpentine entwined carnations (the latter presented as table prizes). About the rooms were large bouquets of carnations, serpentine, balloons, and the attractively wrapped boxes of stationery which were given as prizes.

The high in bridge was presented to Mrs. Luther Washington, second to Mrs. Elbert Wade, and the canasta high to Mrs. Elsie Siemens.

Jeanette and Harriet had converted 'date books' donated by the General Store into attractive tallies for take home mementoes. There were four tables of bridge and two of canasta attending.

Sales for the Valley Fare (new edition!) Cookbook soared when the ladies learned that the recipe for the delicious Wine Pound Cake served during the refreshment hour could be found as a contribution from Mrs. John (Julie) Power.

Just because you are new in town, it's not the end of the world...

Bookmobile gives Valley schedule

Under a slightly revised schedule, the new county bookmobile will visit the two Carmel Valley shopping centers on alternate weeks on Friday.

This week the mobile library will be at the Carmel Rancho Shopping Center, 11 a.m. to noon, and 1 to 4 p.m.

Next week it will be at the Carmel Valley Shopping Center 2 to 4 p.m.

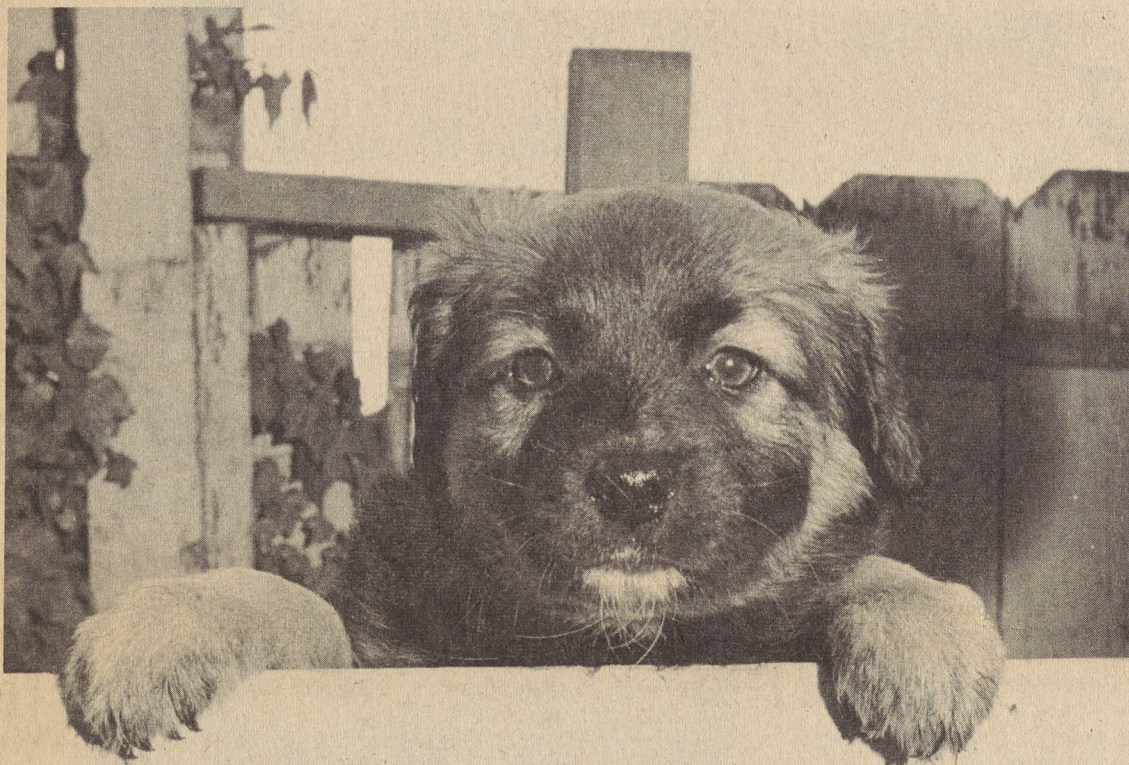

The blue and gold vehicle carries more than 2,000 adult and children's books plus current magazines, has a new librarian, Don Gazzaway.

EDITORIAL

The Need for Leadership

I hope that all of you have been paying close attention to our new President. You almost have to. He not only is a native Californian, but he is the first native to run the U.S. government. Californians are not notably quiet; it is a little surprising that President Nixon ushers in his 4-year lease on the White House in a very low-key attitude. Maybe he feels that Lyndon Johnson made too much racket in defending his unpopular views, and that the country wants a less effusive president. Could very well be. Among his opening words to his countrymen, President Nixon emphasized phrases like the following: "To lower our voices would be a simple thing."

"We cannot learn from one another until we stop shouting at one another."
"We will strive to listen in new ways — in the voices of quiet anguish, the voices that speak without words, the voices of the heart."
I know that President Nixon knows what he is doing; he didn't make it all the way to the White House by accident. But the very orderliness of his takeover, the emphasis on the noiseless approach to our problems, the very businesslike way in which the affairs of government seem to be operating — it seems, unfortunately, a little unreal. Maybe it just seems that way. Maybe this is just part of the "honeymoon" atmosphere which every new president is privileged to enjoy — for a few weeks, even a few months. Most presidents took an opposite tack. Either through eloquence that was anything but subdued, through promises of revolutionary legislation, or by just making themselves very public on a day to day basis, the emphasis was on the 'new' and 'better' image that was now in the White House. President Nixon during the election did not wage a notably low-key campaign. In fact, he had a number of very strong comments to make about the shortcomings in Washington. These statements no doubt helped him win. This is the 'real' Richard Nixon. The president does not need to be a humble man. In fact he needs to be a forthright and an eloquent and a persuasive man. These are characteristics of Richard Nixon. Actually the nation has seldom if ever been in a more perilous state. Our problems in California, especially the disastrous rains of the past month, are puny by comparison, even though one of President Nixon's first orders was to declare the entire state a 'disaster area'. This fine country is, in a different sense, almost entirely a 'disaster area'. I hope President Nixon uses his eloquence and his strength to bring a sense of unity to his nation. I don't think it can be done by his 'lowering his voice.' His voice should be the one heard above all others.

TO THE EDITOR

Dear Sir:

Evidently the Carmel High School Humanities Class held their school picnic a bit early this year, according to the Outlook (Jan. 22) which devoted 2 full pages to this event. The only difference between my day and 1969 is that last week it was necessary for 2 residents from Esalen Sensitivity Training Institute to manage and instruct the students in this "deep, warm and beautiful" human experience!

I feel sorry for these young people who couldn't even have a "beach party" without being instructed, supervised and manipulated. Is there NO area in our lives in which the social experimenters are not dabbling, peeping into, or actively exploiting?

Is it necessary to teach students how to hold hands, to "communicate", trust, and "relate"? It is not enough that we supervise and regiment people from Little League to the grave? IS THERE NOTHING LEFT FOR THE INDIVIDUAL TO DISCOVER FOR HIMSELF?

Sincerely,
Wanda Johnson

The Rhyming Philosopher

Out of the storm came the rising of rivers,
Down from the sky came the deluge of rain;
Threatening waters give residents shivers,
Fearing the floods and the harsh hurricanes.

Out from the closets came raincoats and rubbers,
Axes and shovels to clear toppled trees;
Dirge of dismay from the golf country clubbers,
Shouts of delight from the ski devotees.

Mothers of children are churning with worry,
Fathers reluctantly take off for town,
Linesmen are swamped with petitions to hurry
Because of the phone and power poles down.

Such is the way Winter's fury reminds us
Bounty bestowed often costs a full sum;
Spring heralds Summer's glib sunshine and blinds us
From realization that Winter must come.

Out of the storm-sodden-ground grass is growing,
Reservoirs fill with the nectar of life;
Evil the price may be, balm is in knowing
Blessings are frequently nurtured in strife.

CVCYC to perk up programs

Revitalization of the Carmel Valley Community Youth Center by changes in programs and policies was the first decision of the board of directors when they met last week.

Three committees were appointed by president Gordon Harlander to head these changes. Mrs. Rex Pryer, chairman for finance, will research, formulate and recommend ways of gaining financial support. This group will provide income forecasting to assist in better financial management. First project on their agenda will be the annual "Festival of the Grape."

BETTER PROGRAMS

The programs committee, led by Mrs. Roger Sherman, will develop new and better programs for the youth of the valley. They will review ideas for additional uses of the building, increasing attendance at the Saturday movies and deciding what programs are desired by the teen and pre-teen groups.

One of the first studies to be made by this group will be a population analysis of the upper valley to determine how many are being served by the Community Center in the various age groups.

IMPROVEMENTS

Dick McKenzie is chairman of the Facilities committee which will review and recommend improvements for the building and grounds. All maintenance work will be initiated and coordinated by this group which will begin with the paving of the driveway in front of the building.

Mrs. George Glendenning will continue as the adult advisor for the youth activities and will also work on the Executive committee with the president and chairmen of the committees.

The committee group will work on special projects and are at present meeting with the Carmel Unified School District to review the five year lease on the swimming pool.

"COMMUNITY SCHOOL"

A program being investigated is the possibility of creating a "Community School" recreation program in the upper valley to provide after school and week-end activities with professional recreation directors.

President Harlander reports that the programs must improve to properly serve the upper Carmel Valley. He is hopeful that action has begun for an improved and expanded program in 1969.

Traffic slowly resumes pace

Traffic on Carmel Valley road is being slowly resumed, but it doesn't appear that it will be in full operation very soon according to a report of the County Road Department.

Westbound valley traffic has been routed through Miramonte road which is also in need of repair near its west end, according to department sources.

Repairs to Carmel Valley road east of Miramonte road are a major project reports Richard Fleming, county road maintenance engineer. A good east-bound detour on the valley road must be built before determining what test and surveys show as a result of the slides on both sides. Miramonte will be fixed a little better for traffic in the meantime, he said.

One lane of the Robinson Canyon Bridge will remain open during daylight hours but will be closed at night, the County Road Department reported.

Temporary repairs have been made to the next bridge up the canyon so that light loads can get through to White Rock.

Valley merchants thanked by Chest

A "thank you" was extended this week to the merchants of Carmel Valley by Community Chest for contributions which put this community over the top this year.

Dr. Edward P. Marcucci, a member of the Peninsula branch of the organization, said that the valley was one of the few groups going over the top this year. He was also chairman of the local merchants who offered their volunteer services this year. They are the following: Lou Gardner, Herb Brownell, Lou Allaire, Dean Campbell, Andy Fitzgerald, and Rex White.

Music Seminars must seek new site

A five-month long investigation into the feasibility of establishing a year-round music college atop Corona Ridge, in Carmel Highlands, came to a formal conclusion Wednesday before the county's Planning

Ed Leslie brings fame

Carmel Valley stood next door to fame as Ed Leslie, former Valleyite took second place in the manufacturers championship race at Daytona Beach Sunday.

Leslie shared honors with Lothar Motschenbacher who brought in the Lola Chevy across the finish line.

Actor James Garner, owner of the machine, is a new property owner in the valley, having recently purchased the Haldorn ranch with actor Clint Eastwood.

Commission.

Faced with solid opposition from property owners and residents of the area, Hidden Valley Music Seminars has had to abandon their plans for a campus upon a section of the property owned by Dr. Wesley Wright.

Executive Dean of the Seminars, Peter Meckel, requested a two to three month continuance of the hearing, in order that the major problem concerning access to the site might be resolved, and also to encourage more support for the project among residents.

UNITED FRONT

Chief spokesman for the Highlanders was long time resident Dan James, who reminded the Commission that the two residents associations were firmly against issuance of a use permit, mainly because the proposed structures would violate the essential residential character of the area, and would not be in accordance with the Master Plan for the Highlands, which states that all future development must have new and separate access roads.

Backed by a room crowded with Highlands residents, James led a united front of opposition, reflected in the results of a poll conducted by the Carmel Highlands Association, and in a letter from musician Rosario Mazzeo, who questioned whether the financial and organizational stability of the Seminars was sufficient to warrant a scheme of such long range significance.

COMMITTEE BACKS OFF

A sub-committee, comprising E.P. Marcucci, Keith Evans, and Leon Stutzman, had been appointed by the Commission to study the application. It was upon their recommendation that Meckel had based his request for a continuance. But confronted with these opposals, the committee backed off, with Evans expressing their feelings, "I regret that there has not been more support for this project. With the seemingly overwhelming opposition that this has engendered, I would question the wisdom of Hidden Valley if they pursued their application."

With other commissioners voicing their sympathy, and hopes that the Seminars would find another location in the area, Stutzman's motion for denial of the permit was carried by 6-1.

Let's face it, wet wash is a real monster. Why fight it? Without a dryer you're the victim.

It means that every year you lug 2,000 pounds 40 miles in round trips from house to clothesline. You pinch and unpinch about 10,000 clothespins. Winkler sets scoring record as Carmel remains unbeaten

Carmel's Varsity Basketball Team appears to be a shoo-in for the Mission Trail Athletic League Title this year, now with a scintillating mark of nine victories against no setbacks.

They took the measure of Palma, 65-59, and Pacific Grove, 70-62 last week to take a comfortable three and one-half game lead, with star Center Bruce Winkler Friday night against the Breakers establishing a new Carmel High individual scoring record of 42 points.

Carmel's three teams trek to Felton Friday evening to tangle with San Lorenzo Valley and the next Padre Sportcast is Tuesday, February 11, at 7:30 p.m., when Harold Gann reports the last half of the JV game and all of the Varsity Contest over KRSA-FM, 100.7 Mc.

Winkler, of course, received the Most Valuable Player Award with his record-shattering 42 against Pacific Grove, and Coach Jason Harbert after the Palma tilt bestowed the MVP honors on Forward Chris Laiolo, who, while tallying 16, held his man to 10....Rick Morrison, one of the League's top scorers with an average of 18 points per game.

Harbert this season, while being blessed with truly one of the finest young players in California (Winkler), constantly surprises the opposition with variations of the press on defense. He has effectively used a man-for-man full and half court press, and unveiled a zone full-court press against Pacific Grove.

"When we execute properly on defense, we can turn our opponent's mistakes into Carmel points", commented the crafty coach.

The Padres are eyeing their fifth league championship since the start of the school in 1940. Last time they cashed in was 1960 and '61 with back-to-back crowns.

Carmel's JV and Lightweight teams lost both to Palma and Pacific Grove. What a difference a Winkler makes.

Weather, full stream lures fishermen

With Carmel river running full, steelhead were in evidence, but no great quantities were spotted by local fishermen drawn out by good weather.

The sheriff's office cautioned fishermen to watch for crumbling banks due to the heavy rains that soaked up the earth and eroded much of the river.

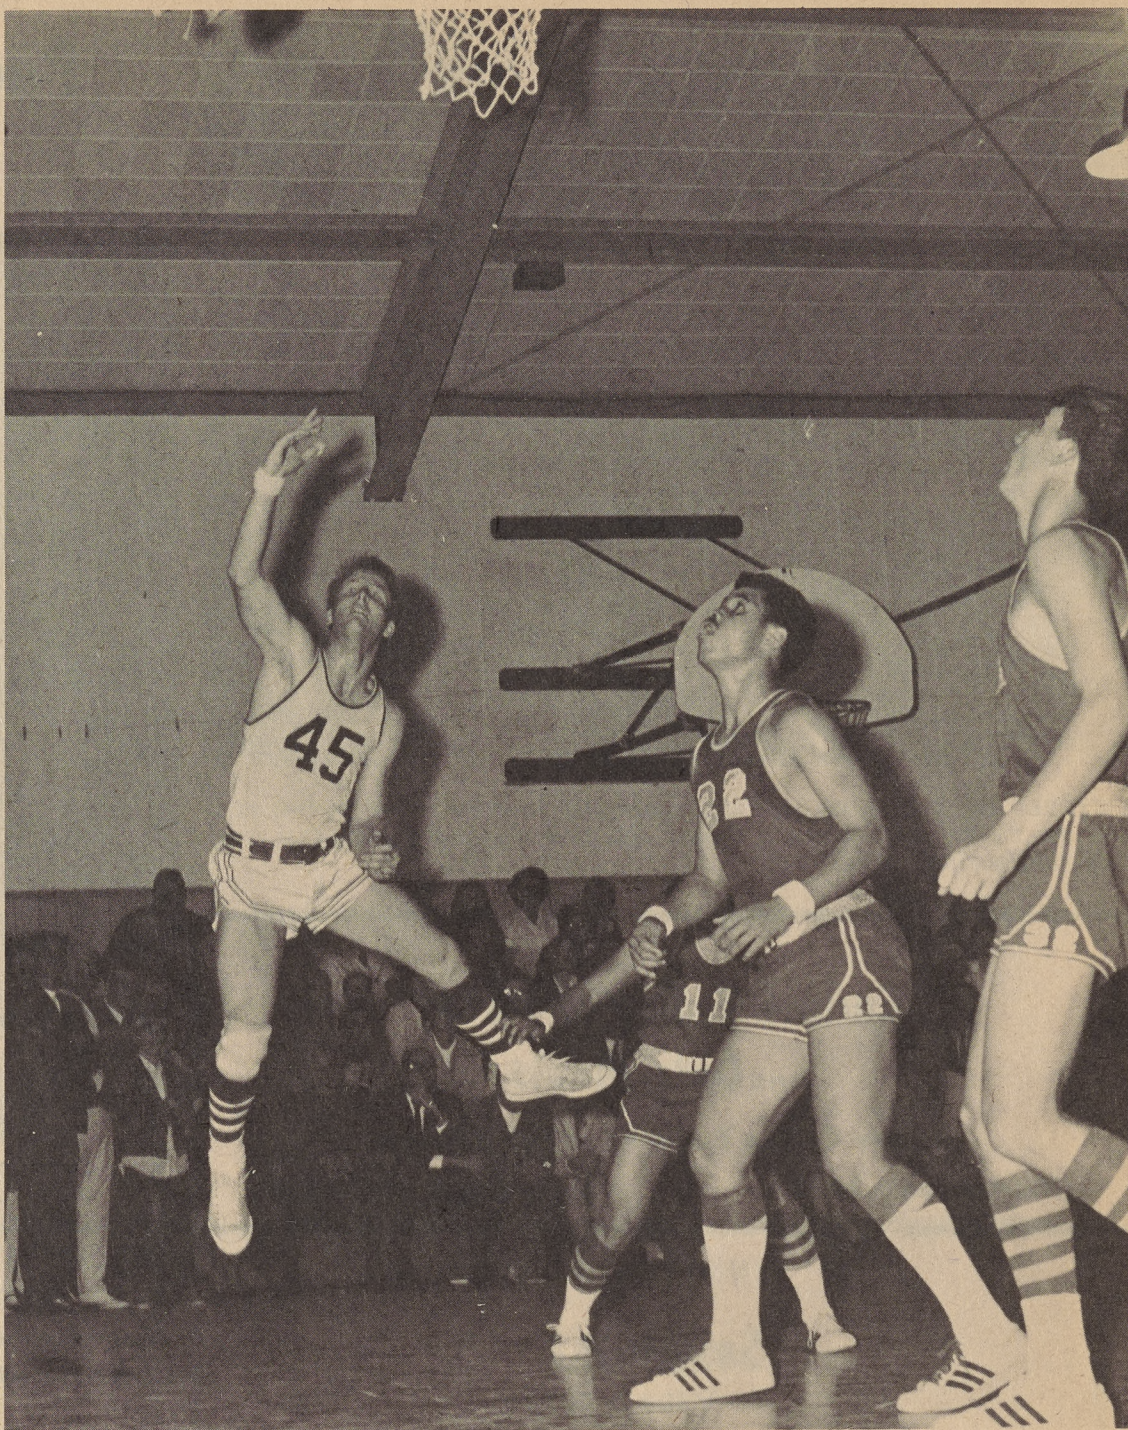

The standard California fishing laws were in effect for Monterey county with fishing only on Saturday, Sunday, Wednesday, legal holidays, and the last day, Friday, February 28, open for stream fishing.

FISHING REGULATIONS

The Carmel River is open only from the mouth of the river to Robles Bridge at Robles del Rio. Fishing may begin one hour before sunrise and end one hour after sunset. Only two fish of any size may be caught.

According to California sport fishing regulations, no person shall use any hook with more than two points, nets, gaffs, spears, or other illegal gear except a landing net.

In Monterey county no device capable of being used to view under water may be used on or in any stream in Monterey county between November 16 and the day before the Saturday nearest the first of May for the taking of fish by anyone or more persons acting in unison.

Negro History Week marked by program

Negro History Week, which encompasses the birthdays of Abraham Lincoln and Frederick Douglas, will be celebrated with a program at the Monterey Peninsula College Little Theatre, Monday at 8 p.m.

The Readers Theatre will present "Soul of Black America" which features in dramatic form outstanding black voices from past and present.

The program includes "See How They Run", by Mary Elizabeth Vroman. It tells of a young teacher's struggle to give her students a strong sense of identity. There is no charge for the program.

Valleyite is commissioned

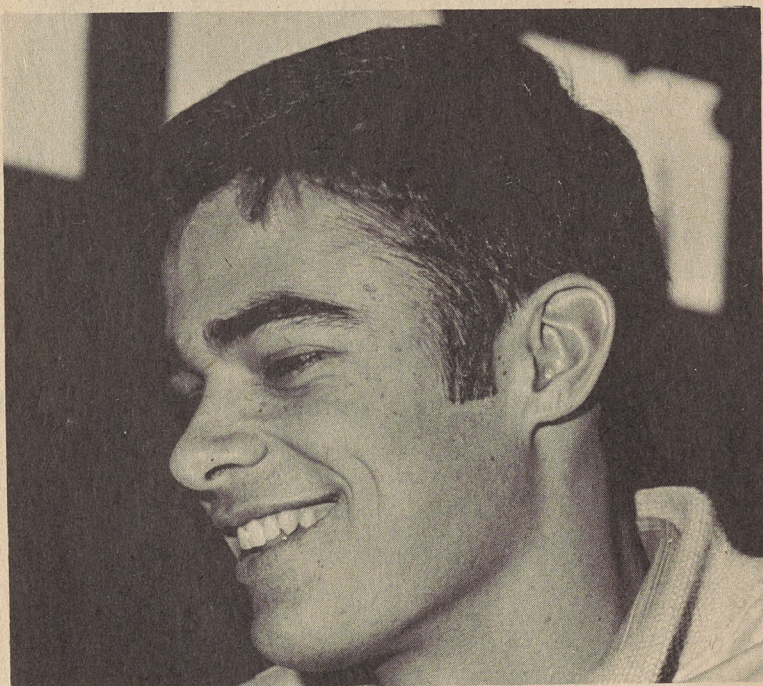

Newly commissioned Marine officer, 2nd Lt. Jeffrey B. Cunningham, has graduated from basic school in Quantico, Virginia.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick R. Cunningham of Carmel Valley.

Rings reported missing at Carmel Valley home

Three rings valued at $3,185 were reported missing at her Carmel Valley home by Glenell May Westphal early last week.

She reported to sheriff's deputies that the house key, which had been hidden, was also missing. A diamond ring, a wedding band and an engagement ring were taken from a jewelry case in the bedroom.

Doctor Faustus to be shown at Carmel Feb. 19 Get ready for SCRAM

The Burton's production of Doctor Faustus will be presented February 19 and 20 at the Carmel Village Theatre by the Carmel Museum of Art.

The legend of "Doctor Faustus" or Faust, the scholar who sold his soul to the devil in exchange for youth, knowledge and a woman, had its origins in the 16th Century, in the time of an actual German conjuror of that name.

The Columbia Pictures release stars Burton in the title role with Miss Taylor appearing as Helen of Troy, the beauty whom Faust summons from the ancient past after he has sold his soul.

"Doctor Faustus" is based on the play by Christopher Marlowe, first presented in 1588, in the London of William Shakespeare and the Globe Theatre. This screen version of the Faust legend is not the first; there have been others.

The Faust legend has been the subject of several operas, the most famous being the Gounod masterwork based on the Goethe drama; this first was heard in Paris in 1859 and in London and New York in 1863. This is the opera which also was put on film in Italy as "Faust and the Devil" with Italo Tajo, Nelly Corradi and Gina Matterna, by producer Gregor Rabinovitch and director Carmine Gallone.

Stephen Vincent Benet, the American poet and writer, made the Faust legend a piece of American literature with his story "Devil and Daniel Webster." When it was filmed, Walter Huston played Old Scratch and Edward Arnold the redoubtable Daniel Webster whose patriotic oratory won back the soul of James Craig, playing a young New England farmer trapped

Circle Theatre to have comedy

An evening of hilarious fun is in store for playgoers, when J.B. Priestly's farce comedy "When We Are Married" opens Friday, February 14th, at the Circle Theater, Carmel, under the sponsorship of the Community Theater of the Monterey Peninsula.

Master playwright Priestly has set the action of his play in the sitting room of Alderman Helliwell's house in Cleckley, a small village in England at the turn of this century. Gathered together to celebrate twenty-five years of wedded bliss are the Helliwell's, the Parker's and the Soppit's, all very proper and genteel citizens of the community.

The happy celebration party is still in progress when Gerald, the young organist from the village church arrives. He has been summoned to the Alderman's home to be chastised for being seen out late at night with girls. Pompously, Parker and Soppit join Helliwell in berating Gerald for what they call loose morals. He is warned by the three gentlemen that the church will not tolerate such goings-on and that if he wishes to remain untainted and above reproach, he should keep his mind on his organ and not on the girls.

Calmly, but with a great deal of glee, young Gerald looks the by greed and lust for Simone Simone. The film was released as "All That Money Can Buy" as well as under its original title.

three men squarely in the eyes and drops a verbal bomb of startling proportions. He informs the trio of respected leading churchgoers that he has discovered that Parson Beech, who supposedly married them twenty-five years before, had not yet been qualified to perform the marriage ceremony, so therefore the upstanding Helliwells, the Parkers and the Soppits have, since their supposed wedding day, been living in sin. The effect of this announcement is cataclysmic.

Before things are settled again, lives are jarred amusingly and smugness gives way to madcap hysterical adventure.

Director Charles Thomas has set Valentine's Day as the opening performance. Thereafter, "When We Are Married" will play for six weekends through March 22nd. Curtain time is at 8:30 on Fridays and Saturdays with an early performance at 7:30 on Sundays only. The Community Theater recommends this play as entertainment for the entire family.

The current musical attraction at the Circle, "The Roar of the Grease Paint—the Smell of the Crowd" has been held over. The final two performances will be given this Friday and Saturday, February 7th and 8th.

Get ready for SCRAM

Laguna Seca lakebed which is used for a parking lot during racing weekends is being pumped dry in order to ready it well in advance of the April racing date of the Sports Car Racing Association of the Monterey Peninsula (SCRAM).

Recent rains have left nearly 5,000,000 gallons of water in the usually dry lakebed. SCRAM is well equipped to handle the situation this year through drainage arrangements authorized in last year's budget.

The first racing date is scheduled April 26 and 27. It is an introduction of a professional Trans-American Sedan Championship featuring rapid Camaros, Mustangs, Cougars, Javelins, etc.

Other racing dates are scheduled for June and Monterey. In the past only two races a year have been run, but three are scheduled so far and a possible fourth is in the making.

Norton family flies to Greece

Mr. and Mrs. William J. Norton, former owners of the Carmel Valley Outlook, left Saturday on an extended holiday in Greece.

They were accompanied by their daughter, Laurie, a student at Carmel High School. She will enter the American high school in Athens where Warren Edwards, former Carmel High School principal, is

Teachers to meet at Holiday Inn

More than 250 teachers will take an in-depth look at new teaching methods at the Fifth Annual Improvement of Instruction Conference at the Holiday Inn here Feb. 8, sponsored by the Central Coast Section, California Teachers Association.

Dr. Donald H. Parker, author of "Schooling for Individual Excellence" and other education books and materials, is scheduled as keynote speaker at 10 a.m. He is a resident of Big Sur, and director of the Institute for Multi-level Learning International.

Lucile Scholefield, Monterey Bay Teachers Association, conference chairman, said the program stresses the use of multi-level learning materials and techniques, which make it possible for schools to break away from today's rigid grade placement for emphasis on techniques that permit students to be involved in individualized learning.

The Nortons plan to return next summer after a vacation of rest and revisiting favorite places seen on former trips.

They flew from San Francisco to Seattle for a short visit with their daughter, Mrs. Vaughan Monnes, the former Lynne Norton of the valley. Two pet cats, Benjie and Albert, caged for the journey north, will remain with Mrs. Monnes.

George, the pet dog, who has become a familiar site in the village, went north to stay with their son, Stephen, a student at University of California.

Chamber to meet Thursday noon

The Carmel Valley Chamber of Commerce will meet Thursday noon at the Rippling River Resort.

It is the regular monthly meeting of the organization.

The chamber is engaged in an all-out membership drive, according to R.L. Kvenild, president.

Every business in the Valley is being contacted this month by letter, pointing up the advantages of joining the group.

Dues are only $25 a year.

"No other organization works specifically for the Carmel Valley business community, from Carmel Rancho to Cachagua," Kvenild pointed out.

He added: "A great deal needs to be done, many things to be looked after - if Carmel Valley is to shape its growth in a way unharmed to its beauty and tranquility."

Many of the projects for the new year will be discussed at the February meeting, and Kvenild urged as many businessmen and businesswomen as possible to attend.

Another death at Porter's Curve

Two accidents occurred on the Carmel Valley Road last week, one a fatality.

Sharon M. Germond, 24, of Norman, Okla. was killed in a one car accident in the early morning hours in a sports car driven by her husband, Lt. (j.g.) Stanley P. Germond, 24.

The car slid across the road after taking Porter's curve near Country Club drive at too great a speed, the California Highway Patrol said. It hit an embankment and both were ejected. Lt. Germond, who sustained major injuries, was transported to the hospital by the Carmel Valley Volunteer Fire Department in the Red Cross ambulance.

The couple was en route to Newport, R.I., where the young officer was to report for duty. They were visiting friends on the Peninsula.

Victoriano L. Ortiz, 51, of Carmel was arrested for drunken driving last week when his one-ton truck crashed through barricades on the Carmel Valley road east of Miramonte.

He was going in excess of 70 miles per hour when he ignored the flagman where the highway is under repair. His truck crashed down a 100-foot embankment. He sustained minor injuries.

YOUNG UCK KIM, young Korean violinist, will be featured at a concert of the Carmel Music Society next week.

Young Korean artist to appear

Young Uck Kim, 22, Korean violinist whose rise to fame began with his appearance at Leonard Bernstein's Young People's television concert program, will appear Saturday, Feb. 15 at the Sunset Auditorium, under the auspices of the Carmel Music Society.

Born in Seoul in 1947, Young Uck Kim began studying piano at the age of four and switched to violin two years later. When he was 16 he appeared with Eugene Ormandy and the Philadelphia Orchestra. Two years later he appeared with the National Symphony Orchestra in Washington and New York. After appearing on Bernstein's program he had many requests to appear with major orchestras and recital centers here and abroad.

Tickets are available at Carmel Music Society's box office at Friar Tuck Book Store (624-7500).

LEISURE TIMES

'Yum Yum' just as fascinating as ever

"Under the Yum Yum Tree," the Studio Theatre's new play, is such an artful comedy that it is likely to be around for a long time to come.

The Studio players in Carmel are doing a revival before highly appreciative audiences.

While the play is clever and bawdy, it isn't something that can be staged casually.

The slick lines, the bold treatment of sex, the delicate interplay between four most definitive characters — these come off well only if a rather high standard is projected by the cast.

Dave Kirk, director, brings it all off exceptionally well.

The role that Jack Lemmon made so famous — that of Hogan, the libertine landlord — is handled with no little skill by Brian Jarman. Hogan may be beyond belief as a character, but Jarman makes him licentiously acceptable.

As almost everyone knows, since the theme has become most familiar, the action pivots around Robin Austin, a role to which pert and pretty Pam Keller adds her own special enchantment.

Her problem is how to establish a truly meaningful relationship with Dave Manning (played by Rick Poe). She decides to invite him into her apartment on a strictly platonic basis.

He finds this idea naturally ridiculous, but involves himself anyhow when he is intercepted early and overwhelmingly by Hogan.

Emma Jane Hansen, as Irene Wilson, is Hogan's foil, as Robin's anointed guardian, as well as one of Hogan's numerous conquests.

Robin's chastity somehow is maintained throughout the evening, but only after it is seriously challenged by not only Dave and Hogan, but even her own fragile resolve, as it turns out.

While this play is 9 years old, it is still very valid social commentary, and a refreshing reminder of just how frankly and forthrightly sex has long been handled before the public. Perhaps the movies are taking more liberties than ever before, but they still have a lot of catching up to do.

In "Yum Yum", seduction is discussed from random angles and with both brightness and brilliance. It is a fascinating subject, and the dialogue created by playwright Lawrence Roman bubbles out as cleverly today as it did a decade ago.

The Studio players have captured the hilarity of the drama, as well as its subtleties, and should play to full houses for the entire run under the entertaining branches of whatever the Yum Yum tree is — or what you wish it to be. GMD

An evening of I-acts at Carmel High

A group of one-act plays which range from an unusual slapstick farce by a well known British playwright to an obscure play by the young Tennessee Williams will be presented Saturday evening, Feb. 8th, in Brey Hall at the Carmel High School.

The plays will be given 'rehearsal' production — with a minimum of scenery to embellish the work of the student actors from Carmel High's drama classes.

This first public presentation of theatre at the high school this year is to serve a two-fold purpose.

The drama department would like to submit a one-act play to a major drama festival later in the year. The audience will be handed a ballot to vote for their choice from this collection of plays.

Thus, as well as providing an entertaining evening of live theatre, the audience vote will help decide what play should be submitted to the festival. A new group of one-acts will be offered for similar presentation in the near future.

The program will start at 8:00 p.m. in Brey Hall. Admission is fifty cents.

Little League getting ready for new season

At an organizational meeting at the fire station of the Carmel Valley Little League, initial plans were made for the forthcoming season by President George Palmer and his staff.

The tryouts have been set for the latter part of April.

Coaches and managers will be: Red Sox, Hap Tystrup, manager, Richard Crane, coach; Volunteers, Sal O'Campo, manager, Garry Moore, coach; Giants, Lin Egli, manager, no coach named;

Tigers, Bill Hancpol, manager, John D. Arman, coach. Farm Teams include: Pirates, George Maddock, manager, Ron Angle, coach;

Cubs, Steve Thigpen, manager, Leon Mink, coach.

There are two farm teams open for men willing to work in either capacity.

In a progress report it was announced that John Simpson will pave the new driveway. The League hopes to add a new field on land behind the scoreboard. Bids are open on all equipment - bats, balls, uniforms, etc.

The League extends an urgent plea for HELP. In addition to the afore mentioned Farm Teams who need managers and coaches, a number of families who have moved from the Valley have created vacancies in the officers.

Needed are a new vice president, treasurer, and secretary. Also men willing to umpire, ladies willing to staff the snack booth, and sponsors for the teams.

Anyone interested please phone George Palmer, 659-2591, George Groves, 659-2458 or Bill Hancpol, 624-5623.

A meeting has been scheduled for February 7, Friday, at 7:30 at the Fire House. All interested adults, especially new residents, are invited to attend.

Rugby tournament set for March

Carmel Middle School will again host the annual Rugby Tournament March 22nd and 23rd.

The event, which is the oldest rugby tournament in the United States features top sixteen teams in the United States. The tournament is jointly sponsored by the Northern California Rugby Union and the Monterey Peninsula Jaycees. The proceeds are to be used for youth activities endorsed by the Monterey Jaycees.

Teams appearing in the past are Notre Dame, Holy Cross

Golf courses in full operation again

Golf courses in the area are all back in shape again after being flooded in the storm.

The Carmel Golf and Country Club, which had flooding and erosion, is back in shape again and ready for play.

Hardest hit of all was Corral de Tierra on the Monterey-Salinas highway which lost two bridges, and parts of six fairways to raging water. The course has been closed, but was re-opened over the weekend.

Rancho El Toro near the Los Laureles Grade road weathered the storm and has been in full operation.

Lines From Lois

"Dear Mrs. Renk:

Your House Salesmen are Something Else!"

Well yes, I rather think they are. In the first place, they arent salesmen, they are finders. They find a home for buyers, and they find buyers for a home. And in the second place, they're ASSOCIATES, and this means they not only "look" for you on their own, but they consult with one another constantly to be sure they haven't missed a possibility in a home which will exactly meet your needs. And when they've done their challenging job of finding the right buyer for the right home, no "salesmanship" is needed; it only remains for the sale to be completed competently on terms acceptable to both sides. I think you will enjoy the services of these salesmen who are "something else."

THE ROBINSON CANYON BRIDGE near the Farm Center is slowly being restored, following heavy damage during last month's heavy rains. Traffic is still limited and restricted to daytime hours. This phot shows how one of the piers was tipped when debris piled up behind it while the Carmel River was at flood stage.

CARMEL HIGH POTTERY CLASS IS SOMETHING SPECIAL

By Barbara Gates

It felt good to make and mold, something, something that has beauty because it was created by hands, and was meant not for profit, but just to create beauty.

My hands are not just to be 'used', but to express, sometimes better than words could. It is not to play God, but to develop what we have, for self-satisfaction, self-esteem, and growing in knowing yourself and understanding others.

People that find it hard to express their feelings by voice, can often succeed by what they create.

My feelings towards Pottery and sometimes life, can best be expressed by these two paragraphs I quoted from somewhere:

"The more one loses himself, the more one is oneself."

Work is something like having a conversation with oneself — a personal soliloquy in which through argument and trial you try to nail something down — express the explicable."

"You can't tell quite what's going to happen when you start, but then after the work is done, recognition comes: certain things affect you; and then you recognize that the work was really yourself."

Inter-Personal

"Those who do not see me, do not, see themselves."

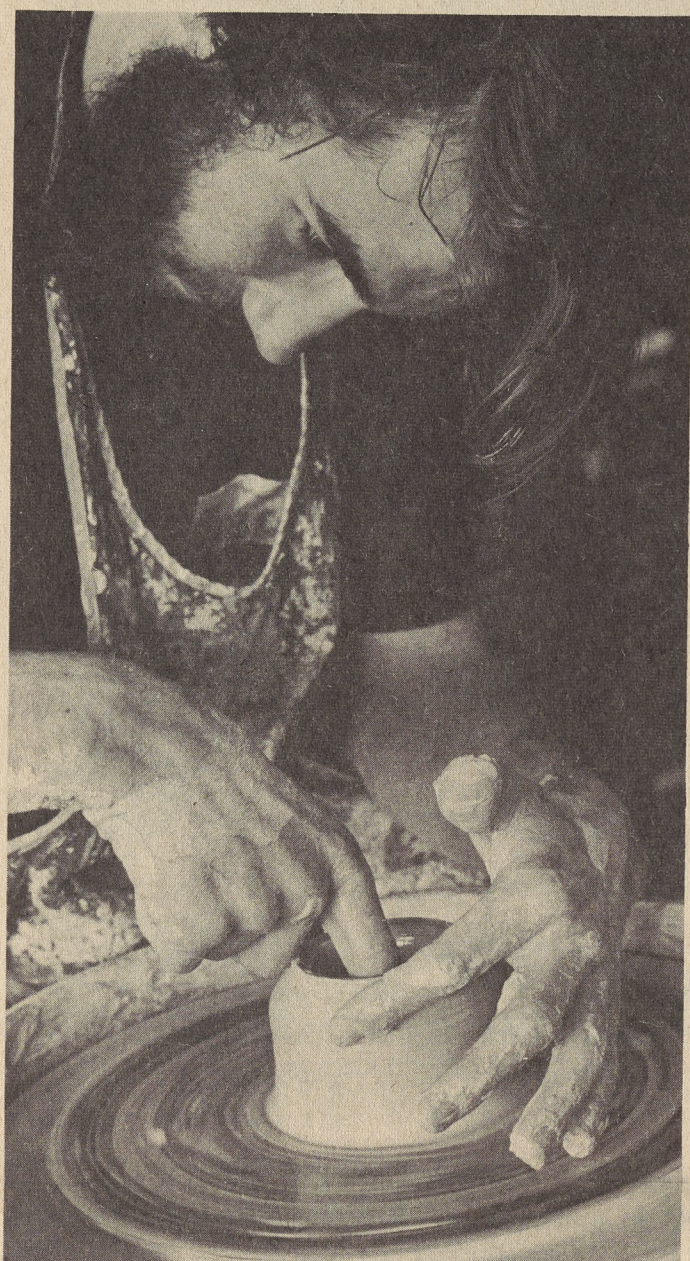

Who is better than the other,

Our lives run through the same river.

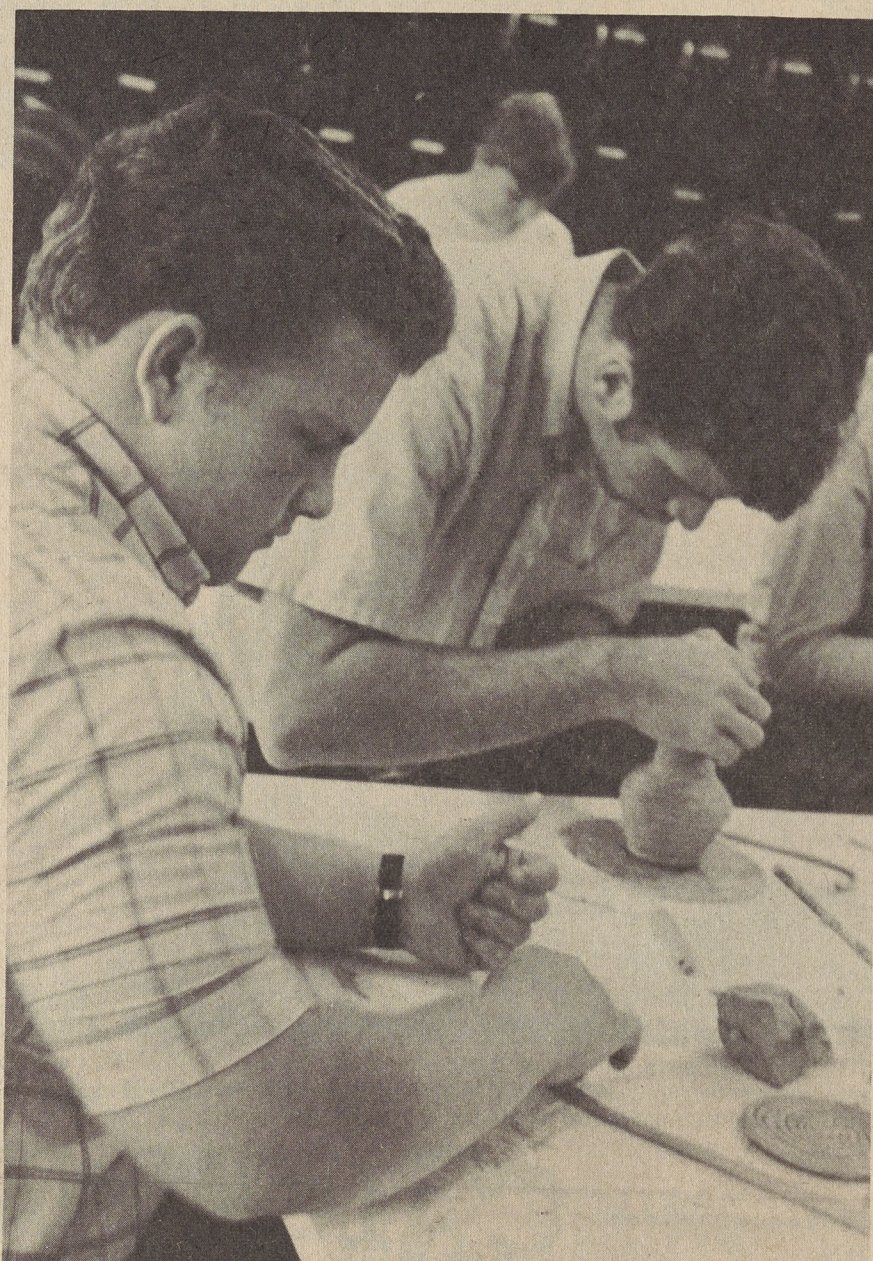

People who do not see me only glimpse."

— my own

Open-house helps all this to come about. It helps people to 'see' each other. Understand, and 'see' beauty in each other.
